WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15, 1857.

The Know-Nothing organs notice meetings of their party to come off, talk of principles and prospects with assumed complacency; but the rest of mankind understand that the meetings, and the principles and prospects are growing small by degrees; that already they are microscopic affairs, almost invisible to the naked eye. Two years ago the brethren were talking with horror at Catholics and foreigners; not one of them should hold office. The faithful have been hastily climbing down ever since. They dropped the name Catholic, and inserted that they only proscribed those who owed allegiance to a foreign prince. In order to convince the world of their self-satisfaction, they nominated and supported Catholics for the highest offices of State. At the same time, they began to boast themselves as the very champions of religious liberty. At the last Know-Nothing National Council, Catholics were not only allowed to be members of the party, but exalted to the chief places in the order. They sat in council to determine the creed of the faithful, and in convention to select their candidates. Thus vanished away that zeal for protestantism, and that horror of foreign potentates once so significant in the Know-Nothing creed. You can't now find in a Know-Nothing document any respectability, a word about the Pope. The most that is left to show for Know-Nothingness once was, is a paragraph on an unscrupulous sheet, containing a mean slur on a Catholic or his religion. The late Council that sat in Louisville dropped the subject altogether, and never let it that it had ever been a part; nay, one-half, at least, of the Know-Nothing creed.

And what about foreigners? After all the ranting, the creed and the practice of the Know-Nothingness have changed on this subject. Foreign influence was once a faint not about; but let a foreigner only become a Western Light, that is, degrade himself by joining the Know-Nothing party, and he is at once invested with high qualities, and becomes, not one of the foreign hordes, but a very intelligent and respectable voter, far superior to the native-born citizen who has not been baptized into Sam.

Right here in this city, foreigners can be appointed to responsible offices, and it has been judged better to have the proceedings of the City Council published in a foreign language, that foreigners might read them, rather than that they should be published in papers that the native-born, who are not Samites, read. And, we see in the late resolutions of the State Council, that only a single resolution is devoted to the naturalization laws; and that only a faint echo of way in the distance. What object have these Know-Nothing, then? Can any one tell? What would they do if they had power to-day. The wisest of them couldn't tell; and the rest of mankind couldn't guess. The strength of such a party might be seen by inference, without looking at the numbers at the polls. The people of this country are practical in their movements; they don't follow shadows; hence, Know-Nothingness has no existence as a party in a single free State. Its only show is in New York, and there it has not one-fourth of the popular vote. In the rest of the free States scattering can run their candidates; they have not a handful of votes. In the South they carried on by disgraceful means; and were routed in every other slave State. After such a result, a faction without an creed, without an object, without credit to bank on, and many crimes to answer for, ought to die by its own consent. It ought to hang itself, and not wait for the executioner.

The organs announce that their faction will attend to nothing but Americanism. It would be something to their credit if they would stick to that resolution; for they never meddle with any matter of common sense, and common importance, without exposing the most contemptible ignorance and folly. Let them employ themselves in attention to Americanism, and the mass of the people will attend to the business of the country. Americanism is a small affair, fit for the employment of small potatoes, that must needs be occupied in small things. Some of them show a disposition to reform the morals and manners of the world; they are always aspiring to something out of their reach. Let them stick to Americanism.

The Know Nothing editors are just finding, for the first time, what Southern Democrats said in Congress upon the passage of the Nebraska Kansas bill, and, indeed, what most of them have said since. They said that they voted for the bill as a matter of principle, not that they expected that Kansas would be a slave State. They disavowed any such belief. Most of the speeches made by Southern men furnish examples of this sort. They are nothing new to Southern Democrats. The Know-Nothing are just now finding out what was publicly declared and published all over the country three years ago. Of course, these Know-Nothing are startled, surprised, confounded, and their editors try to shake the brethren out of what little sense is left in them. They promised to scare-crows to frighten people out of their distraction. On the face of the Nebraska-Kansas bill it is written that the people of Kansas shall determine whether slavery shall exist there or not; and all agree that they shall settle this question when they meet to form a State Constitution; what they may do beforehand being a question of expediency, as defined by the Supreme Court. The South, of all parties, thus took the bill free from the power of Congress over the subject of slavery in the Territories. They knew that the citizens of Kansas would settle the question at last, in spite of North, South, or Congress; and they had no objections to their doing so. By this policy they avoided the dictation of Congress, and that was the great end to be gained for the rights of the Southern States. From first to last, there has been no issue in the Democratic party as to whether Kansas shall be a free or slave State. How the people there would settle it, no one could foresee with certainty. It is plainly written in the organic law that they shall do it; and everybody has read it except the Know-Nothing. What will be the result, every man can judge for himself. There is as much difference of opinion as to the result in the South as there is in the North. If the Territory of Kansas had been let alone, the chances all were that it would become a free State. The Black Republicans have, we believe, cast the balance on the other side, and they will insure its being a slave State if their present policy is persisted in. But the policy is right and constitutional, and fair to both sections of the Union; therefore it is supported by Democrats everywhere, whatever the result may be. They will not fail to support a measure right and constitutional, because it will, in its operation, make a Territory a free or a slave State.

State. They have understood the whole affair all the time. Know-Nothingness may be confounded, and astonished, and scared, and their organs have been refreshingly ignorant on the whole subject from first to last. Perhaps, in the course of eight or ten years, they will see the point, and begin to glorify Douglas and Pierce, as they now glorify Jackson. The mass of them are not to blame; their organs are ignorant or dishonest, or a little of both, and never make a candid statement of anything.

We see that the organ is very fierce about Utah. He advises the most rash and summary action on the part of Congress, with little or no regard to the power of that body. In fact, it never did occur to the editor that Congress could not do anything that needed to be done. We have yet seen no plan of operations for Utah that looks promising. The Administration has the subject under advisement; and the first thing is to get a man to go there as Governor that will do; and what is he to do after he gets there? There is a social and moral reform needed there, and political expedients to work such reforms have never succeeded. We have been considering whether Know-Nothingness would not be a good institution for Utah. A secret political organization might work wonders in that region, perhaps. Would not General Augustus Adolphus Scroggs make a first rate Governor? The name would provoke superstitious terror, and perhaps the revelations of Sam might supersede the revelations of Joe Smith. He could tell them that Mr. Fillmore, his disciple, had first appointed Brigham Young Governor, and thereby indorsed him and his religion, and that Mr. Clay, who was a patron of Mr. Fillmore, once took a "lively interest in the progress of the Latter-day Saints." By these suggestions, Scroggs would get on the blind side of the Saints, and upset the polygamist Young and his revelations. The Know-Nothingness ought to get the country out of this Utah business. Fillmore, the leader of the brethren, was chief agent in getting us into this scrape with Utah; can't Scroggs help us out? He put Fillmore through, can't he put Young through? There would be one point worth considering; whether Know-Nothingness or Mormonism would be the worst evil of the two. We don't know what the former might grow to be, unchecked and in Utah. Sam might get other revelations polygamous and adulterous. He might have Mormonism with Know-Nothingism grafted upon it. There would be a great risk to run on this point, which the President ought to consider, if he should think of Scroggs for Governor of Utah.

We have had the pleasure of adding largely to our list of advertisers within the last few weeks. Many who saw fit to subscribe in times past, because we urged the protection of law to every citizen, and who even in their party madness rashly held that our course was calculated to injure Louisville, have found out better, and are now reckoned among our advertising patrons. Never since the first number of the Democrat was issued to the present time, has it been a more effective or better medium to the advertising public than now. Its circulation extends very generally through Tennessee, up Alabama, Mississippi, southern Indiana, and Illinois, and it may be found in every county and precinct in our Commonwealth. Thousands take it who read no other paper. It stands, in point of circulation, at the head of the Democratic press south of the Ohio river or west of the mountains. No one should fail to appreciate such advantages, and we respectfully invite the attention of merchants, manufacturers, and traders, to the superior facilities it affords them in spreading wide their cards, weekly, to thousands of readers, over an area of country that it would require half a life-time to travel through once.

THE SUPREME COURT.—The Supreme Court of the United States is constituted as follows: Roger B. Taney, of Maryland; John McLean, of Ohio; James W. Wayne, of Georgia; John Catron, of Tennessee; Peter V. Daniel, of Virginia; Samuel Nelson, of New York; Robert C. Grier, of Pennsylvania; Benjamin Robbins Curtis, of Massachusetts; John A. Campbell, of Alabama. Of the foregoing, Messrs. McLean and Taney were appointed by Gen. Jackson; Messrs. Catron and Daniel by Mr. Van Buren; Mr. Nelson by Mr. Tyler; Mr. Curtis by Mr. Fillmore; and Mr. Campbell by Gen. Pierce. It will be seen that of the nine judges five are from the slave States, and four from the free.

D'ARRESTS COMET.—The small telescopic comet, discovered at Leipzig on the 23d of February, and in this country a month later, have now been seen with a telescope of moderate power, although it will require a clear sky to be able to see it to advantage. It was nearest the sun, March 21st. It presents the usual cometary appearance. The nebulous head is about a minute in diameter, and the nucleus is as bright as a star of the seventh magnitude.

THE KANSAS BILL.—We are in the receipt of the first number of a paper bearing the above name. It is published by W. Wallace Pike, and edited by Saml. Pike and W. Robinson. It is a handsome sheet, edited with ability, and should command an extensive patronage in the Sucker State.

DISTRIBUTING POST-OFFICE DISCONTINUED.—The distributing privilege of the post-office at Tusculum, Ala., has been discontinued, and the office at Chattanooga, Tenn., supplies its place. This information should be remembered by the public, and will be of advantage to the Postmasters.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE has a correspondent on board the steamship Fulton—English Channel—whence, under date of March 19, 1857, informs the public that the sea voyage has restored Senator Sumner's health. Yes—yes!

INCREASE OF DUTY.—The State Department gives notice that a decree has been promulgated at Pernambuco, Brazil, increasing the export duty to seven per cent. The decree took effect on the 1st of January last.

THE entire work on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad will be completed to-day, and the first train will leave Cincinnati for St. Louis this morning.

THE Democracy of Pendleton county will hold a meeting to nominate a candidate for the Legislature, in Falmouth, on the first Monday in May.

THE Rev. Mr. Burton, of Cleveland, O., is to preach the sermon at the consecration of St. Andrew's Church, this morning, at eleven o'clock.

BEEF CATTLE IN NEW YORK.—There was a large advance in the price of beef cattle at Bull's Head, New York, on Wednesday, the price of good fat cattle, suitable for market, retailing, being equivalent to 12 cents a pound, and averaging fully ten dollars a head more than the same grades last week, making a difference of $20,000. The Tribune says that one drove of Western steers, 70 head, averaged $120 each, and a number of droves of common Ohio and Illinois cattle will average $30. These are great prices for farmers but onerous for city beef eaters. There were two thousand head of bullocks sold which would average $55, and that amount to $170,000.

SADDLERY WAREHOUSE, 501 MAIN ST., DET. SECOND AND THIRD.

R. E. MILES KEEPS CONSTANTLY ON HAND, for sale or to order, all kinds of SADDLERY, Harness, and Trunks. Also, on hand a large variety of Linen shirts and hosiery.

SUGAR.—32 HIDS CHOICE SUGAR just received per steamer Ducky, and for sale by JAMES H. GARRARD & CO.

PIG IRON.—72 L-TONS BROWN'S PORT No. 1 Soft Pig Iron just received per steamer Wm. K. and for sale by JAMES H. GARRARD & CO.

STUCK BY LIGHTNING.—WONDERFUL ESCAPE. The house of Henry Wells, in the town of Fremont, Lake county, Illinois, on the evening of the 22d ult., was struck with lightning. The lightning came in contact by the chimney, which it followed into one of the rooms, and after shattering sashes, ripping up floors and playing around an iron-bound trunk, passed off under the house. A correspondent of a New York paper says:

Eight persons were in the building at the time of the accident, and Mr. Wells, his wife, four children, William Wells (Henry's brother), and a boy fourteen years old—all of whom were more or less injured. All were struck senseless, and now have no knowledge of the incident. Henry thinks he recovered in about ten minutes, and after discovering the condition of the rest of the inmates of his residence (though badly burnt), immediately proceeded to the house of a neighbor with the intention of procuring medical aid, and was proceeding forthwith. Henry was badly burnt about the face and legs. Mrs. Wells was also burnt very severely about the face and legs, and otherwise injured, having been thrown upon a stove. William was badly burnt about the face and legs, and the bowels and down the left leg. His clothing was torn and his boot shivered, but he was not badly hurt. The boy fourteen years old bore no marks upon him, but appeared perfectly unconscious of anything, and lay on the floor. A little girl five years old was marked with a blistered streak, commencing on the right side and running across the breast, thence to the bowels, on the surface of which it lay, and then passed down the left leg. A boy three years old was scorched, but it is not known to what extent he is injured. A little girl aged two years, was to all appearance, dead for about thirty minutes, but recovered.

POSTMASTER GENERAL BROWN.—We hear on all sides that Governor Brown is discharging the severe and vexatious duties of Postmaster General, to the great satisfaction of all persons who have business with the Department. The Governor presents a picture of industry, energy, and pleasantness of manner with good sense, close attention to business, and great efficiency. He is always accessible, seems never to be hurried, but gets through his work with rapidity and completeness, giving every body a civil but direct answer. We predict that Governor Brown, aided as he is by that admirable officer Mr. King, the Assistant Postmaster General, will prove one of the most popular and efficient officials that has ever filled this very difficult post.—Cin. Enquirer.

CONVICT.—The negro man Harrison, slave of Dr. John Fleming, who has twice before been in the court of this county for murdering a slave of Mr. George Wells, has been again on trial at the present term of the court, and was yesterday found guilty by the jury of murder in the first degree.
